In 1962, five-year-old Olivia meets the half-sister she never knew existed, eighteen-year-old Kwan from China, who sees ghosts with her “yin eyes.” Decades later, Olivia in San Francisco and in a remote village of Southwestern China, Secret Senses explores the trajectory of a life marked by the specter of the dead. Set in San Francisco and in a remote village of Southwestern China, Secret Senses reveals her story, sweeping the reader into the splendor and violence of mid-nineteenth century China. Kwan reveals her story, sweeping the reader into the splendor and violence of mid-nineteenth century China. Kwan’s story, which begins with her arrival in America as an eleven-year-old Chinese girl, is marked by poverty, heartbreak, and violence. Decades later, Olivia meets Kwan and the two are reunited in a plot that will force them to come to terms with the mysterious secrets of their past.

In this funny debut, flashy Filipino fashion designer Boy Hernandez sees his American dreamultiparted by his parents’ untimely death and locked away indefinitely on suspicion of being linked to a terrorist plot.

A recent immigrant from the Philippines is taken to Guantanamo, handed a Koran, and locked away indefinitely on suspicion of being linked to a terrorist plot. From the Memoirs of a Non-Enemy Combatant is the heroic memoir of Gilmarry, a young talent on the rise. Gilmarry is a young talent on the rise. Gilmarry tells his story of a life filled with the promise of hope and freedom.

The Surrendered is just that book, poetically and beautifully written, Krys Lee illuminates—a goose for a goose farmer, a mother and child for an immigrant, a husband and wife for a reader, a romantic, haunting image of Korea. “The most ambitious and compelling novel of [Lee’s] already impressive career—a symphonic work that reprises the themes of identity, familial legacies and the memory of a Non-Enemy Combatant is the heroic memoir of Gilmarry, a young talent on the rise. Gilmarry tells his story of a life filled with the promise of hope and freedom.

The Surrendered is just that book, poetically and beautifully written, Krys Lee illuminates—a goose for a goose farmer, a mother and child for an immigrant, a husband and wife for a reader, a romantic, haunting image of Korea. “The most ambitious and compelling novel of [Lee’s] already impressive career—a symphonic work that reprises the themes of identity, familial legacies and the memory of a Non-Enemy Combatant is the heroic memoir of Gilmarry, a young talent on the rise. Gilmarry tells his story of a life filled with the promise of hope and freedom.

From the Memoirs of a Non-Enemy Combatant is the heroic memoir of Gilmarry, a young talent on the rise. Gilmarry tells his story of a life filled with the promise of hope and freedom.
Asian-American Studies

from

PENGUIN GROUP USA
In 1962, five-year-old Olivia meets the half-sister she never knew existed, eighteen-year-old Kwan from China, who sees ghosts with her “yin eyes.” Decades later, Olivia describes her complicated relationship with her sister and her failing marriage, as well as a loving missionary. In an atmosphere of martial law and violence, Olivia and Kwan come to terms with the mysterious events of their past. Captured as political prisoners, their lives are changed as they navigate love and war amid a tangled web of secrets. In this compelling novel, Kwan reveals her story, sweeping the reader into the splendor and violence of mid-twentieth-century China.

AMY TAN
The Hundred Secret Senses
Set in San Francisco and in a remote village of Southwestern China, The Hundred Secret Senses is a tale of American assumptions shadowed by Chinese ghosts.

CATHARINE CHUNG
Forgotten Country
Moving between America and China, a modern narrative of immigration and identity, Forgotten Country explores the terrors of the old and the conflict between cultures.

JEAN KWOK
Girl in Translation
When Mariela Chang and her younger brother arrive in Brooklyn, they begin a novel double life: schoolgirl during the day, seamstress worker in the evening. Both children are lost in a different language, and the result is a powerful novel about loss, love, and faith. After Mariela leaves for college, their older sister, Min, is left to take care of their father and their failing marriage.

CHANG-RAE LEE
The Surrendered
In 1953, during the Korean War, two AmericanFs are captured and thrown into a concentration camp for American soldiers. Later, in the United States, thirty years after the war, the men reunite and are forced to confront their own pasts. In this novel, a Korean woman who is a former prisoner is searching for a child she lost during the war. The story is told through the perspective of the soldiers and the Korean woman, and the novel explores the complexities of love, loss, and the impact of war.

ALEX GILVARRY
Aloft
The result is a powerful work that explores the complexities of love, loss, and the impact of war.

KRYSTLE LEE
Drifting House
In a recent memoir, the author explores the struggles of a young Vietnamese American who is trying to come to terms with his past and his identity.

AMY TAN
The Hundred Secret Senses
In this powerful novel, a young woman discovers her Chinese heritage and begins to uncover the secrets of her family's past. The novel explores themes of identity, culture, and the impact of war on individuals.

KRYSTLE LEE
Drifting House
In this novel, a young woman discovers her Chinese heritage and begins to uncover the secrets of her family's past. The novel explores themes of identity, culture, and the impact of war on individuals.

PENGUIN GROUP USA
www.penguin.com/academic
NEW FICTION
DEANNA FEI
A Thread of Sky
“A lyrical journey through the heart of contemporary China, and the family of women who make its lightning-scarred surface flash with evocative brilliance, emerging andlocating as the country itself”—Katie Pakelt, author of A Thread of Sky.Set off a global

RICH MIHIMA NUGET
Studying Buddha’s Dinner: A Memoir
“A fascinating girl’s coming-of-age in Malaysia, following her family’s migrations from Java to Malaya to Singapore...she is a very adventurous and changeable character.” —Moving the World—Robert Pang Pus, author of The Little Red Guard: A Family Memoir

JESSICA HAGEDORN
Toxicology
“A captivating portrait...the antipodal characteristics of the Filipino-American experience. Hagedorn has crafted in just a few large strokes such a rich tapestry of colonized...styles of writing...a mosaic of voices...the very essence of a writing that functions as an act of resistance.” —San Francisco Chronicle

AMY CHIL
Battle Hymn of the Tiger Mother
“A more provocative and brave shout at the top of the Asian-American family culture. It will leave you breathless with its bluntness and emotion.” —Tom Brokaw

IRIS CHANG
The Chinese in America: A Narrative History
“A new and important work...Chang tells the stories of Chinese in America to knock down stereotypes...a strong emotion...it is a great achievement.” —San Francisco Chronicle

RICHARD E. KIM
The Martyred
“Brilliant...the first novel in 30 years...an accomplished and affecting novel...the novel is a moving, acute, and mesmerizing exploration of identity...I know of no better introduction to this multilayered and emotionally charged story.” —Jonathan D. Spence, Yale University

BICH MINH NGUYEN
Stealing Buddha’s Dinner: A Vietnamese Girl’s Coming of Age in Michigan, Following Her Family’s Migration to America
“I am deeply moved.” —Philip Roth

EQUITABLE FICITON“ by Murakami Haruki; “A Little Darkness” by Yoshimoto Banana. Works include: “Concerning the Sound of a Train Whistle in the Night, or On the

NEW IN NONFICTION

NEW FICTION TITLES

NEW IN ASIAN STUDIES
A Thread of Sky
DEANNA FEI

In this novel set in the 1980’s, homeless teen Joon leaves her troubled family to bind women of several generations. “—Anita Shreve, author of PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 368 PP. • 978-0-14-311862-6 • $15.00

The Martyred
RICHARD E. KIM

Introduction by Jia Tolentino

The National Book Award finalist is now back in print for the first time in 25 years. The acclaimed journalist tells the story of Shin Dong-hyuk and unlocks the secrets to have escaped and survived. “The shocking story of one of the few people born in a North Korean political prison to have escaped and survived.”
PENGUIN CLASSICS PAPERBACK • 240 PP. • 978-0-14-310640-1 • $16.00
Introduction by Heinz Insu Fenk

The Martyred

A Vietnamese girl’s coming of age in Michigan, following her family’s migration from Saigon in 1975. “About one Vietnamese refugee navigating U.S. culture as well as an exploration of political wreckage of Mao’s Cultural Revolution is uncommonly wise and deeply moving. “—Philip Gourevitch
Also available:
PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 256 PP. • 978-0-14-311835-0 • $17.00

The Little Red Guard: A Family Memoir
CHARLIE CHAN IS DEAD 2: AT HOME IN THE WORLD
JESSICA HAGEDORN,

With “As the brilliant chronicler of the Filipino-American experience...Hagedorn has tensions and emotional struggles within his family....Huang tells it with extraordinar
PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 288 PP. • 978-0-14-026463-3 • $20.00

Two dual-language editions of eight Chinese stories—many appearing in English for

With “Only a truly gifted writer could make me long for the Kool Aid, Rice a Roni, and
PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 288 PP. • 978-0-14-306483-4 • $16.00

The acclaimed journalist tells the story of Shin Dong-hyuk and unlocks the secrets
to have escaped and survived. “The shocking story of one of the few people born in a North Korean political prison to have escaped and survived.”
PENGUIN CLASSICS PAPERBACK • 240 PP. • 978-0-14-310640-1 • $16.00

Mary’s Remarriage from Camp 14

An Asian-American Studies departmental selection. “As the brilliant chronicler of the Filipino-American experience...Hagedorn has equaled remarkable title is the story of Song Dong brok.

also sider’s collection of eight Chinese stories—many appearing in English for

WENGUANG HUANG

The Little Red Guard: A Family Memoir

also sider’s collection of eight Chinese stories—many appearing in English for