The Science of Genius
Proposes that, due to enriched connections between certain areas of the brain, geniuses are able to tap into the unconscious mind in ways that most of us can’t.

Behind Everything We Do
The Hidden Pattern Behind Everything We Do
"Brings a physicist’s penetrating eye to a sweeping range of human activities...show[ing] how a pattern of bursts appears in what has long seemed a random mess. These bursts are both mathematically predictable and beautiful.” — Nicholas A. Christakis, M.D., Ph.D. “Barabási is one of the few people in the world who understand the deep structure of empirical reality.” —Nassim Nicholas Taleb, author of The Black Swan.

Gerd Gigerenzer
GUT FEELINGS
The Intelligence of the Unconscious
Drawing on a decade of research at the Max Planck Institute, the author explains why our intuition is such a powerful decision-making tool: it takes into account only the most useful bits of information. “Before his research, this was a topic dismissed as crazed superstition. Gigerenzer is able to show how aspects of intuition work and how ordinary people successfully use it in modern life.”—The New York Times.
Penguin • 304 pp. • 978-0-14-313768-8 • $15.00

SECRETS OF THE TALKING JAGUAR
Memories from the Living Heart of a Mayan Village
Introduction by Robert Bly
“An evocative, harrowing account of how this childlike, spiritual approach to life continues to be a way of life in this fortified, hamlet—this is a moving treatise on who we are and how we interact with the world around us.”—Chicago Tribune. 8-page b/w photo insert.
Penguin • 368 pp. • 978-0-14-013232-5 • $16.95

Robert Sabbag
DOWN AROUND MIDNIGHT
A Memoir of Crash and Survival
Sabbag’s account of a plane crash in which he and eight other survivors were left wounded and stranded in the woods at night. “The most fascinating part of this book is Sabbag’s effort to fit his memory to reality; to create a collage of his and his fellow survivors’ experiences.”—Los Angeles Times.

BONOBO HANDSHAKE: A Memoir

A young woman follows her fiancé to war-torn Congo to study endangered bonobo apes, and finds that bonobos live in a peaceful society in which females are in charge, war is nonexistent, and sex is as common and friendly as a handshake. “It’s a love story, an adventure story, and a political education about a country that has seen more tragedy and inhumanity than you can imagine. Above all, it’s an introduction to creatures who have every claim to being more human, in the best sense of the word, than we are.”—Adam Hochschild, author of King Leopold’s Ghost. THE EXCHANGE ARTIST
A Tale of High-Flying Speculation and America’s First Banking Collapse
The birth of modern money culture in America told through the story of Andrew Dexter, Jr., a wily New England entrepreneur, visionary, and scoundrel. “Artfully exposes the fragility of the paper economy....This book is as much a history of a banking crisis as an excavation of the foundations of the American economy. It will astonish.”—Ill Lepore, Harvard University.

PLENITUDE
The New Economics of True Wealth
Using examples of emerging cultural shift wherein people are creating lifestyles that offer a way out of the work-and-spend cycle, economist Schor argues for a major life shift to new sources of wealth, green technologies, and different ways of living. "Schor has been the most perceptive and prescient writer on economics this country has had for the last two decades. Here she looks forward once again, clearing a path through the wreckage of our economic collapse towards something more durable and maybe even more fun."—Bill McKibben, author of Earth.

William T. Vollman
IMPERIAL
For generations of migrant workers, from Okies fleeing the Dust Bowl of the 1930s to Mexican laborers today, Imperial County has held the promise of paradise—and the reality of hell. Vollmann takes us deep into the heart of this haunted region, and by extension into the dark soul of American imperialism, also addressing current debates on immigration, agribusiness, and corporate exploitation.
Viking • 1,344 pp. • 978-0-670-02-061-4 • $35.00
Penguin • 1,200 pp. • 978-0-14-31-1840-4 • $35.00

Bruce Watson
SACCO AND VANZETTI
The Men, the Murders, and the Judgment of Mankind
“This is a beautifully written, meticulously researched evocation of one of the most emotion-filled events of the 20th century....Watson brilliantly conveys the atmosphere, the drama, the excitement surrounding the case, which still fires the passion and touches the conscience of so many in this country and around the world.”—Howard Zinn, author of A People’s History of the United States.
Penguin • 448 pp. • 978-0-14-31-142-8 • $16.00
