With her best friends caught up in their own issues, Miranda decides to make friends with the shy new student Nora Lee. But soon Nora thinks that anything Miranda can do, she can do better.

THEY CALLED ME MAD Genius, Madness, and the Scientists Who Pushed the Outer Limits of Knowledge—John Monahan (Berkley December 320 pp. 978-0-425-23696-3 $15.00)

Recounts the amazing true stories of such historical luminaries as Archimedes, creator of the world’s first death ray; Isaac Newton, the world’s last great alchemist; and Nikola Tesla, who built the precursors of particle beam weapons before the turn of the twentieth century.

WHERE GOOD IDEAS COME FROM The Natural History of Innovation—Steven Johnson (Riverhead October 336 pp. 978-1-59448-771-2 $26.95)

Beginning with Darwin’s first encounter with the coral reef, the bestselling author asks, What kind of environment fosters the development of good ideas? Today radical innovation is extraordinarily accessible to those who know how to cultivate it.

LET’S HAVE A BITE! A Banquet of Beastly Rhymes—Robert Forbes (Overlook September 96 pp. 978-1-59020-409-2 $19.95)

Illustrated by Ronald Searle. Naughty lion cubs, chocolate bunnies, monkeys, idle pandas, a buffalo named Biff, lemurs, guinea pigs, cats, dogs, and even an inchworm named Sprint feature in this timeless collection.

SALVATION CITY—Sigrid Nunez (Riverhead September 288 pp. 978-1-59448-766-8 $25.95)

“A wonderful, great-hearted novel that finds love and hope in the unlikeliest of circumstances. Cole Vining is a latter-day Huck Finn, and we grieve and cheer for him as he makes his journey, both physical and spiritual, through a devastated world.”—Ron Rash, author of Serena.

BEFORE YOU SUFOCATE YOUR OWN FOOL SELF Stories—Danielle Evans (Riverhead September 240 pp. 978-1-59448-769-9 $25.95)

A debut story collection about young African-American teens, women, and men struggling to find a place in their families and communities. “Danielle Evans’s considerable talents are in evidence on every page of this impressive debut.”—Daniel Alarcón, author of Lost City Radio.
THE COKE MACHINE The Dirty Truth Behind the World’s Favorite Soft Drink—Michael Blanding (Gotham September 320 pp. 978-1-58333-406-5 $26.00)
“Coca-Cola wants to teach the world to sing, but in the process they’ve trashed water supplies, peddled sugar to generations of kids, and undermined workers’ rights around the world. Put down your soda...and join the global movement to rein in unaccountable corporations.” —Barbara Ehrenreich, author of Bright-sided.

Inspired by the 2008 elections, the acclaimed artist undertakes a yearlong investigation of democracy and how it works, from imagining a home for herself in the center of Lincoln’s magisterial memorial to considering the cost of war to the service families of Fort Campbell, Kentucky.

REFERENCE

ATLAS OF REMOTE ISLANDS—Judith Schalansky (Penguin October 144 pp. 978-0-14-311820-6 $28.00)
Visually stunning and uniquely designed, this wondrous book captures 50 islands that are far away in every sense—from the mainland, from people, from airports, and from holiday brochures.

Penguin Classics Redux

Last year, we compiled a list of the top ten essential Penguin Classics every person should read.

We thought our list was complete.

We were wrong.

You wrote in about the books we left off. Where was War and Peace? Don Quixote? On the Road?

So we’re creating a new list edited by you. What are your ten essential Penguin Classics?

Go to www.penguin.com/10essentialsredux to vote, and discuss your choices in the Penguin Community at penguin.com/community.
