NEW TITLES • EDUCATION & GUIDANCE

NADIA LOPEZ with REBECCA PALEY
The Bridge to Brilliance
How One Principal in a High-Need Community is Inspiring the World
The inspirational account of the creation of a publishing middle school in Brooklyn by the young principal who revolutionized educational life in the big borough of the East.
“Lopez offers her story of how she works with students in one of the nation’s most underserved communities. In this inspiring story she serves as a reminder that all children are capable of reaching the highest levels of success with the right support.” (Wendy) John, Executive Director, White House Initiative on Educational Excellence for African Americans
VIKING HARDCOVER • 208 PAGES • 978-1-101-98023-8 • $25.00

ERIKA CHRISTAKIS
The Importance of Being Little: What Preschools Really Need from Grownups
A bold challenge to conventional wisdom about early childhood—with a pragmatic, highly personalized approach that draws on today’s technological and professional resources to engage students, develop their love of learning, and prepare them to face the challenges of the twenty-first century.

NIKKO TAKEDA with REBECCA PALEY
Substitute: Going to School with a Thousand Kids
A young principal who rocketed to national fame via the blog.

NADIA LOPEZ with REBECCA PALEY
Creative Schools: The Grassroots Revolution That’s Transforming Education
The inspirational account of the creation of a pathbreaking middle school in Brooklyn by the young principal who rocketed to national fame via the blog.

ANN PATTY
Living with a Dead Language: My Romance with Latin
After 35 years in New York City, Ann Patty moves to the country and begins studying Latin.

STEVEN PINKER
The Sense of Style: The Thinning Opinion of Writing in the 21st Century
The bestselling linguist and cognitive scientist creates a usage guide for the 21st century.

VIKING HARDCOVER • 288 PAGES • 978-1-101-98025-5 • $26.00

LOU ARONICA
That’s Transforming Education
In this powerful memoir of his experience, he documents the disconnect in our nation’s education system: while standardized testing businesses are raking in huge profits, America’s schools are struggling, students are failing, and educators are suffering under the strain.

KEVIN CAREY
The End of College
Creating the Future of Learning and the University of Everywhere
The renowned education researcher presents a paradigm-shifting examination of the rapidly changing world of college for parents, students, and educators. Carey explains how two trends—the skyrocketing cost of college and the revolution in information technology—are radically altering the college experience, upending traditional ideas about the kinds of curriculum and knowledge everyone, what it looks like in action, what kinds of curriculum and knowledge, and the University of Everywhere.

KEVIN CAREY
The Grassroots Revolution: That’s Transforming Education
The inspirational account of the creation of a pathbreaking middle school in Brooklyn by the young principal who rocketed to national fame via the blog.

For complimentary examination copies and personalized information, please call 1-800-271-7073 or visit www.penguingroup.com/exam

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 320 PAGES • 978-0-14-310806-1 • $17.00

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 368 PAGES • 978-0-14-312779-6 • $17.00

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 192 PAGES • 978-0-14-311403-6 • $15.00

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 128 PAGES • 978-0-14-311522-3 • $15.00

PENN STATE PRESS HARDCOVER • 204 PAGES • 978-0-271-07216-1 • $25.00

RAI PAPERBACK • 256 PAGES • 978-0-393-35465-3 • $17.00

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 192 PAGES • 978-0-14-311459-5 • $15.00

RAI PAPERBACK • 256 PAGES • 978-0-393-35465-3 • $17.00

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 128 PAGES • 978-0-14-311522-3 • $15.00

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 192 PAGES • 978-0-14-311459-5 • $15.00
NEW TITLES • EDUCATION & GUIDANCE

STEVEN PINKER

The Sense of Style

The Thinking Person's Guide to Writing in the 21st Century

The formatting, language, and logic of written English are changing, and we are not always sure if the changes are for the better. The Sense of Style is a practical guide to writing well in English in our time. It will explain the rules of English writing and argue that breaking them is a serious mistake. It will also explain what you can do to take full advantage of the rich resources of contemporary English and avoid the pitfalls that beset many writers today.

STEVEN PINKER

Finding Your Element

The Importance of Being Little

What Procedural Rules Really Need from Growups

A bold challenge to conventional wisdom about early childhood—with a pragmatic program that encourages parents and teachers to rethink how and where young children learn best by taking a child’s-eye view of the learning environment.

ERIKA CHRISTAKIS

Living with a Dead Language: My Romance with Latin

The renowned education researcher presents a paradigm-shifting examination of the rapidly changing world of college for parents, students, and everyone who cares about higher education.

KEN ROBINSON

Creative Schools

The Groundbreaking Revolution That’s Transforming Education

Creative Schools presents a new model for schools that harnesses teachers’ full capacity and enables them to become truly creative in the classroom and lead the way in reimagining the entire educational enterprise.

KEVIN CAREY

The End of College

Creating the Future of Learning and the University of Everywhere

Carey shows that traditional college is a complete anachronism—will radically alter the college experience, upend traditional meritocracy, and emancipate hundreds of millions of people around the world.

WWW.PENGUIN.COM/FACINFO

www.penguin.com/academic
NEW TITLES • EDUCATION & GUIDANCE

NADIA LOPEZ with REBECCA PALEY

The Bridge to Brilliance
How One Principal in a Tough Community Is Inspiring the World

"Lopez’s efforts to support the needs of children in one of the most under-resourced communities in the country should serve as a model for all who aspire to open pathways to excellence for educators who wish to portray," (Dawn) John, Executive Director, White House Initiative on Educating the African American

NADIA LOPEZ with REBECCA PALEY

THE BRIDGE TO BRILLIANCE
208 PAGES • $25.00 • 978-1-101-98022-4

ANN PATTY

Living with a Dead Language: My Romance with Latin
A child born in the United States in 1955 whose mother enrolled her in a Latin school. As she learns to make sense of Latin grammar and syntax, she meets a cast of spirited characters—professors, students, and classicists who keep Latin alive—and at local colleges. In the low of Latin grammar and syntax, she meets a

NICHOLAS BAKER

Substitute: Going to School with a Thousand Kids
In 2014, after a brief orientation course, Baker became an on-call substitute teacher in a Maine public school district. In his personal memoir of his experience, he documents the hectic and often absurd administrative assignments, characterized by the domination of social media and technology, and where the staff tries to teach in the only way it ever has, against modern conventional instruction.

STEVEN PINKER

The Sense of Style
The bestselling linguist and cognitive scientist creates a usage guide for the 21st century, applying the sciences of language and mind to the challenge of crafting clear, stylish prose.

ERIKA CHRISTAKIS

The Importance of Being Little
What Preschoolers Really Need from Grownups
A bold challenge to conventional wisdom about early childhood—with a pragmatic program that encourages parents and teachers to rethink how and where young children learn best by taking a child’s-eye view of the learning environment.

ANN PATTY

And...More Contemporary and Comprehensive Than The Elements Of Style, Distilled With Care, Strips And Cautions And Lists Of Examples Of Commonly Bad Writing (like the New York Times)

504 PAGES • $18.00 • 978-0-670-05280-4

www.penguin.com/academic

Education and Guidance

Penguin Publishing Group

NEW TITLES • EDUCATION & GUIDANCE

KEVIN CAREY

The End of College
Creating the Future of Learning
The enduring education reform presents a paradigm-shifting analysis of the rapidly changing world of college for parents, students, and educators alike.

ANN PATTY

...More contemporary and comprehensive than The Elements Of Style, Distilled With Care, Strips And Cautions And Lists Of Examples Of Commonly Bad Writing (like the New York Times)

The author of Creative Schools: Transforming Education for America’s Children, Carey explains how two trends—the skyrocketing cost of college and the revolution in information technology—will radically alter the college experience, upend traditional meritocracy, and emancipate hundreds of millions of people around the world.

KEN ROBINSON with LSU ARONICA

Creative Schools
The Grassroots Revolution That’s Transforming Education
The author of The Element and Finding Your Element highlights the importance of an innovative education system, which transforms knowledge into skills and attitudes that are needed in the twenty-first century: creative, innovative, and engaging.

KEVIN CAREY

The End of College
Creating the Future of Learning
www.penguin.com/academic
NEW TITLES • EDUCATION & GUIDANCE

STEVE SILBERMAN

Neurotribes: The Legacy of Autism and the Future of Neurodiversity

Sherryl Silberman recounts the history of autism and finds surprising answers to the question of whether the rise of diagnoses is due to real increases. Using both the latest data on autism research, Silberman tells the stories of two research pioneers who defined the existence of autism as a profoundly different way. He also refers to concerns about the effects of autism on the families of those with autism and society as a whole.

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 416 PAGES • 978-0-14-310799-4 • $16.00

SHERRY TURKLE

Reclaiming Conversation: The Power of Talk in a Digital Age

Leading sociologist Turkle investigates the shifting behaviors of adults and children in the digital age. Through interviews and observations, she explores the impact of this momentous transition on our relationships. Turkle calls for conversations to reconnect.

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 384 PAGES • 978-0-14-310966-1 • $15.00

STUART SHANKER

Brainstorm: The Power and Purpose of the Teenage Brain

Drawing on new research in the field of interoceptive neurobiology, the clinical pediatrician presents a playful and practical guide to helping parents and educators understand and support adolescents. Sherryl's research reveals the need for young people to establish self-control, and teaching them how to do so is at the heart of this book.

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 272 PAGES • 978-0-14-310817-7 • $15.00

KAITLIN ROIG-DEBELLIS with JOHN GARY FISHER

Choosing Hope: How a Blinded Father Grew His Darker Hour

A leader at Harvard's Elementary School who lost his left leg to a lower-limb amputation, and who uses mindfulness to help others to find light in darkness, shares his story to inspire others in their struggles, and to give hope in dark moments.

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 288 PAGES • 978-0-14-310864-5 • $16.00

GILBERT M. GAUL

Billion-Dollar Ball

A Journey Through the Big Money Culture of College Football

College football is a large-scale business. Gaul, reminds readers that in the pursuit of billions, we can often lose sight of the values that make this sport so great. Gaul's book also highlights the corporate culture and institutional influence that have created big–money entertainment businesses that happened to make a little education on the side.

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 288 PAGES • 978-0-14-311694-4 • $15.00
DALE ARCHER

The ADHD Advantage
What You Thought Was a Diagnosis May Be Your Greatest Strength

This book methodically and clearly delineates a healthy and realistic understanding of ADHD from a biopsychosocial framework. The author shows how ADHD is grounded in biological, psychological, and environmental factors, and how treatments can be tailored to fit the individual.

SHERKY TURKLE

Reclaiming Conversation: The Power of Talk in a Digital Age

Drawing on her own research, Turkle investigates the impact of digital media on our social skills, mental well-being, and sense of purpose. She provides compelling evidence that a world with less conversation also means a world with less meaning.

DANIEL J. LEVITIN

A Field Guide to Lies: Critical Thinking in a World of Deceit, Propaganda, and Manipulation

This book is a must-read for anyone who wants to improve their critical thinking skills. It provides practical strategies for distinguishing between real and fake news, and for evaluating the credibility of sources.

BESSEL VAN DER KOLK

The Body Keeps the Score

Trauma, North and South

Van der Kolk presents a revolutionary approach to trauma treatment that is based on the latest findings in neuroscience. This book provides a practical guide for helping clients find relief from the physical, emotional, and psychological effects of trauma.

STUART SHANNER

Self-Reg: How to Help Your Child (and You) Break the Tumult of Adolescence

This book offers practical strategies for parents and educators to help adolescents manage stress and improve their emotional well-being.

KAITLIN ROIG-DEBELIS with JOHNNY GABBY FISHER

Choosing Hope: How to Move Forward from Life’s Darkest Hour

This book shares the author’s personal story of recovery and hope, offering readers insights and strategies for finding hope and purpose after a traumatic event.

GILBERT M. GAUL

Billion-Dollar Ball

College Football’s $5 Million Man

This book provides a behind-the-scenes look at college football, exploring the economic forces that drive the sport and the impact of football on college campuses.

STEVE SILBERMAN

Neurotribes: The Legacy of Autism and the Future of Neurodiversity

Silberman explores the history of autism and the future of neurodiversity. He examines the implications of recent research on the brain and argues for a more inclusive approach to understanding autism.

MARTIN COYSER

Understanding Schools for Children with Special Needs

This book provides a comprehensive overview of the education of children with special needs, including strategies for effective teaching and learning.

RAFE ESQUIVIL

Math Doesn’t Suck

How to Survive Middle School Without Losing Your Mind or Your Self Esteem

This book is designed to help middle school students navigate the challenges of math and middle school, providing strategies and tools for success.

DANICA MCKELLAR

Girls Get Curves

The Modern Girl’s Guide to Yoga, Style, and Self-Esteem

This book is a practical guide to embracing one’s curves and living a healthy, happy, and confident life.

MICHAEL BRICK

The Billion Dollar Ball

College Football and the Image of American Life

This book provides a critical analysis of college football, exploring the economic forces that drive the sport and the impact of football on college campuses.
NEW TITLES • EDUCATION & GUIDANCE

STEVE SILBERMAN
Neurotribes: The Legacy of Autism and the Future of Neurodiversity

Silberman revises the history of autism and offers an important new perspective on the condition’s causes, diagnosis, and treatment. The author challenges the prominent ‘neurotypical’ model of human behavior, revealing how the current model has resulted in ineffective treatments for people with autism.

AVERY PAPERBACK • 272 PAGES • 978-1-101-98288-4 • $16.00

From family therapy that looks at causes and solutions, Wedge hopes to establish a new possibility of a healthier, less medicated future for children. Drawing on techniques gleaned from family therapy that looks at causes and solutions, Wedge hopes to establish a new possibility of a healthier, less medicated future for children.

Daniel J. Siegel

Drawing on new research in the field of interpersonal neurobiology, the clinical professor at the Stanford Medical School presents a framework for understanding children’s behavior and emotional development. His model is based on the idea that children must develop a healthy sense of self-regulation, the nervous system’s response to stress, and serves as a foundation for better parenting and educational practices.

AVERY PAPERBACK • 560 PAGES • 978-0-399-18561-8 • $19.00

Our digital age is stressful, frantic, and over-stimulating…. Wedge hopes to establish a new possibility of a healthier, less medicated future for children. Drawing on techniques gleaned from family therapy that looks at causes and solutions, Wedge hopes to establish a new possibility of a healthier, less medicated future for children.

STUART SHANKER

Rooted in decades of clinical practice and research, this ground-breaking book presents a new understanding of self-regulation—the nervous system’s response to stress—and serves as a foundation for better parenting and educational practices.

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 288 PAGES • 978-0-14-310863-4 • $17.00

Drawing on new research in the field of interpersonal neurobiology, the clinical professor at the Stanford Medical School presents a framework for understanding children’s behavior and emotional development. His model is based on the idea that children must develop a healthy sense of self-regulation, the nervous system’s response to stress, and serves as a foundation for better parenting and educational practices.

Choosing Hope: How to Be an Optimist Today

Raising children in a world of growing test scores, high-stakes testing, and pressure to perform can be overwhelming. But it is possible to help children develop resilience and a positive outlook on the world. The authors provide practical tools and techniques to help parents and teachers support children’s emotional well-being.

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 208 PAGES • 978-0-14-312561-7 • $17.00

Choosing Hope: How to Be an Optimist Today

Raising children in a world of growing test scores, high-stakes testing, and pressure to perform can be overwhelming. But it is possible to help children develop resilience and a positive outlook on the world. The authors provide practical tools and techniques to help parents and teachers support children’s emotional well-being.

M A R I L Y N W E D G E

A Journey Through the Secret Life of Children

Why ADHD Becomes an American Epidemic

The leading authority offers an understanding of the ADHD epidemic and offers the practical tools to help parents, educators, and medical professionals navigate this challenging condition. The author provides a clear and comprehensive strategy for identifying, diagnosing, and treating ADHD, helping parents find the best path forward for their children.

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 336 PAGES • 978-0-14-312561-7 • $17.00

Choosing Hope: How to Be an Optimist Today

Raising children in a world of growing test scores, high-stakes testing, and pressure to perform can be overwhelming. But it is possible to help children develop resilience and a positive outlook on the world. The authors provide practical tools and techniques to help parents and teachers support children’s emotional well-being.

G I L B E R T M. G A U L

Million-Dollar Ball

A Journey Through the Money Culture of College Football

College football is a big business, a source of profit and prestige for the schools that participate. But it is also a source of frustration and dissatisfaction for the players who work hard to keep the schools running. This book provides a revealing look at the complex economic forces that drive college football and offers a critical perspective on the role of money in modern college sports.

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 288 PAGES • 978-0-14-310863-4 • $17.00

Drawing on new research in the field of interpersonal neurobiology, the clinical professor at the Stanford Medical School presents a framework for understanding children’s behavior and emotional development. His model is based on the idea that children must develop a healthy sense of self-regulation, the nervous system’s response to stress, and serves as a foundation for better parenting and educational practices.

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 288 PAGES • 978-0-14-310863-4 • $17.00

Choosing Hope: How to Be an Optimist Today

Raising children in a world of growing test scores, high-stakes testing, and pressure to perform can be overwhelming. But it is possible to help children develop resilience and a positive outlook on the world. The authors provide practical tools and techniques to help parents and teachers support children’s emotional well-being.

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 288 PAGES • 978-0-14-310863-4 • $17.00

Choosing Hope: How to Be an Optimist Today

Raising children in a world of growing test scores, high-stakes testing, and pressure to perform can be overwhelming. But it is possible to help children develop resilience and a positive outlook on the world. The authors provide practical tools and techniques to help parents and teachers support children’s emotional well-being.

PENGUIN PAPERBACK • 288 PAGES • 978-0-14-310863-4 • $17.00

Choosing Hope: How to Be an Optimist Today

Raising children in a world of growing test scores, high-stakes testing, and pressure to perform can be overwhelming. But it is possible to help children develop resilience and a positive outlook on the world. The authors provide practical tools and techniques to help parents and teachers support children’s emotional well-being.