THE RAINBOW 100th Anniversary Edition
—D. H. Lawrence (Signet Classics August 544 pp. 978-0-451-53030-1 $6.95)
Introduction by Daphne Merkin. Lush with religious and metaphysical imagery, this is the story of three generations of the Brangwen family, set against the decline of their rural English existence in the face of industrialization.

THE ARABIAN NIGHTS Volume I: The Marvels and Wonders of The Thousand and One Nights
—Anonymous (Signet Classics August 592 pp. 978-0-451-53059-2 $8.95)
Translated by Richard Francis Burton. Adapted by Jack Zipes. Introduction by Daniel Beaumont. This edition follows the unexpurgated translation of Burton, the renowned Victorian explorer. Intricate and inventive, these stories within stories continue to captivate readers as they have for centuries.

THE SONNETS—William Shakespeare (Signet Classics August 288 pp. 978-0-451-52727-1 $5.95)
A special introduction by W. H. Auden complements literary criticism by William Empson, Hallett Smith, Winifred M. T. Nowottny, and Helen Vendler, with detailed footnotes at the bottom of each page.

HERZOG—Saul Bellow (Penguin Classics May 400 pp. 978-0-14-310767-5 $18.00)
Introduction by Philip Roth. “Every single page of Herzog teems with jokes, apercus, deep-thinker riffs—little genius moves every other sentence. The impulse is to read the entire book out loud.”—Jeffrey Eugenides, author of Middlesex.

THE MISANTHROPE AND OTHER PLAYS
—Jean-Baptiste Molière (Signet Classics July 512 pp. 978-0-451-52987-9 $7.95)
Introduction by Donald M. Frame. Written during the triumphant final years of Molière’s career, these seven works represent the mature flowering of his artistry and the most profound development of his vision of humanity.

THE HISTORIES—Herodotus (Penguin Classics Deluxe Edition May 880 pp. 978-0-14-310754-5 $23.00)
Translated by Tom Holland. Introduction and Notes by Paul Cartledge. A fascinating sourcebook for the ancient world that remains vividly contemporary in its appreciation of cultural difference in the acclaimed new translation.

TARTUFFE AND OTHER PLAYS
—Jean-Baptiste Molière (Signet Classics July 448 pp. 978-0-451-47431-5 $7.95)
Translated with an Introduction by Donald M. Frame. Foreword by Virginia Scott. This memorable collection gathers the plays of the great social satirist and playwright Molière, representing the many facets of his genius and offering a superb introduction to the comic inventiveness, richness of prose, and insight that make up Molière’s enduring legacy to theater, literature, and the world. Replaces ISBN 978-0-451-53033-2.

AROUND THE WORLD IN EIGHTY DAYS
—Jules Verne (Signet Classics July 272 pp. 978-0-451-47428-5 $4.95)
Introduction by Herbert Lottman. Afterword by Karen J. Renner. A riveting race against time and an action-packed odyssey into the unknown, Around the World in Eighty Days is a masterpiece of adventure fiction that has captured the imaginations of generations of readers and continues to enthrall us today. Replaces ISBN 978-0-451-52977-0.

THE BLOODY CHAMBER AND OTHER STORIES
—Angela Carter (Penguin Classics Deluxe Edition June 176 pp. 978-0-14-310761-3 $16.00)
Introduction by Kelly Link. “[Carter] was, among other things, a quirky, original, and baroque stylist, a trait especially marked in The Bloody Chamber—her vocabulary a mix of finely tuned phrase, luscious adjective, witty aphorism, and hearty, up-theirs vulgarity.”—Margaret Atwood, The Observer.

WHEN YOU ARE OLD
Early Poems, Plays, and Fairy Tales—William Butler Yeats (Penguin Classics June 368 pp. 978-0-14-310764-4 $16.00)
Edited with an Introduction by Rob Doggett. A collection of beautiful early poems, prose, and drama by one of the 20th century's greatest poets, this is Yeats's first appearance in black spine for the 150th anniversary of his birth.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT—Fyodor Dostoevsky (Penguin Classics Deluxe Edition July 608 pp. 978-0-14-310763-7 $20.00)
Translated with an Introduction and Notes by Oliver Ready. “This vivid, stylish and rich rendition by Oliver Ready compels the attention of the reader in a way that none of the others I've read comes close to matching. Using a clear and forceful mid-20th-century idiom, Ready gives us an entirely new kind of access to Dostoevsky's singular, self-reflexive and at times unnervingly comic text.”—John Gray, New Statesman, “Books of the Year.”

ALICE'S ADVENTURES IN WONDERLAND AND THROUGH THE LOOKING-GLASS
Introduction by Charlie Lovett. Illustrated by John Tenniel. “Wonderland and the world through the Looking Glass were, I always knew, different from other imagined worlds. Nothing could be changed, although things in the story were always changing . . . Carroll moves his readers as he moves chess pieces and playing cards.”—A. S. Byatt, author of Possession.

PLUNKITT OF TAMMANY HALL
A Series of Very Plain Talks on Very Practical Politics—William L. Riordan (Signet Classics June 128 pp. 978-0-451-47413-1 $6.95)
Introduction by Peter Quinn. Afterword by Philip Freeman. This classic work offers the unblushing, unvarnished wit and wisdom of one of the most fascinating figures ever to play the American political game and win.

COMMON SENSE and The American Crisis I
—Thomas Paine (Penguin Classics July 128 pp. 978-0-14-310759-0 $12.00)
Introduction by Richard Beeman. “No writer has exceeded Paine in ease and familiarity of style; in perspicuity of expression, happiness of elucidation, and in simple unassuming language.”—Thomas Jefferson.
FOUR CLASSIC AMERICAN NOVELS
The Scarlet Letter, Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, The Red Badge of Courage, Billy Budd—Nathaniel Hawthorne, Mark Twain, Stephen Crane, Herman Melville (Signet Classics June 752 pp. 978-0-451-53055-4 $8.95)
Introduction by Sandra Newman. Shining examples of American literature at its best, these four novels explore timeless themes—adventure, war, sex, and morality—through compelling narratives.

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF ANDREW CARNEGIE and THE GOSPEL OF WEALTH
—Andrew Carnegie (Signet Classics June 352 pp. 978-0-451-53038-7 $7.95)
Introduction by Gordon Hutner. Two impressive works by Carnegie: his autobiography and his groundbreaking manifesto on the duty of the wealthy to give back to society all of their fortunes.

NAGASAKI Life After Nuclear War
—Susan Southard (Viking August 416 pp. 978-0-670-02562-6 $28.95)
Published on the seventieth anniversary of the bombing, Nagasaki takes readers from the morning of the bombing to the city today, telling the first-hand experiences of five survivors, all of whom were teenagers at the time of the devastation. 40 b/w photos.

THE ROAD NOT TAKEN Finding America in the Poem Everyone Loves and Almost Everyone Gets Wrong—David Orr (Penguin Press August 192 pp. 978-1-59420-583-5 $25.95)
The poetry editor of the New York Times Book Review suggests that Robert Frost’s beloved poem gives us a portrait of choice without making a decision itself—and in this, is distinctively American, for the United States is the country of choice in all its ambiguous splendor.

THE ROAD NOT TAKEN AND OTHER POEMS
—Robert Frost (Penguin Classics August 144 pp. 978-0-14-310739-2 $15.00)
Edited with an Introduction by David Orr. Collecting works from Frost’s first three books—A Boy’s Will, North of Boston, and Mountain Interval—this volume includes beloved poems like “After-Apple Picking,” “The Oven Bird,” and “Mending Wall,” all written in Frost’s early years of brilliant, isolated artistic creation.

MAGNA CARTA (Penguin Classics Available Now 592 pp. 978-0-14-195337-2 $25.00)

THE SENSE OF STYLE The Thinking Person’s Guide to Writing in the 21st Century
—Steven Pinker (Viking 368 pp. 978-0-670-02585-5 $27.95)
Filled with examples of great and gruesome prose, Pinker shows us how the art of writing can be a form of pleasurable mastery and a fascinating intellectual topic in its own right. “More contemporary and comprehensive than The Elements of Style, illustrated with comic strips and cartoons and lots of examples of comically bad writing. [Pinker’s] voice is calm, reasonable, benign, and you can easily see why he’s one of Harvard’s most popular lecturers.”—The New York Times.

THE ORIGIN MYTH OF ACOMA PUEBLO
—Edward Proctor Hunt (Penguin Classics September 224 pp. 978-0-14-310605-0 $16.00)
Introduction and Notes by Peter Nabokov. Translated by Henry Wayne Wolf Robe Hunt and Wilbert Blue Sky Eagle Hunt. The myth reveals how one of the world’s premodern societies made sense of itself to itself, answered key existential themes about the origins of life and death, and formed its customs and codes of ethics and modes of social organization and self-governing.

THE MASTER BUILDER AND OTHER PLAYS
—Henrik Ibsen (Penguin Classics August 368 pp. 978-0-14-119459-2 $14.00)
Edited by Tore Rem. Translated by Barbara Haveland and Anne-Marie Stanton-Ife. Introduction by Toril Moi. This volume includes Ibsen’s last four plays, written soon after his return to Oslo, in the midst of an explosion of popularity.

THE CENTURIONS—Jean Larteguy (Penguin Classics May 544 pp. 978-0-14-310744-6 $18.00)
Translated by Xan Fielding. Foreword by Robert D. Kaplan. A thrilling account of soldiers faced with chilling moral decisions on how to survive in hostile environments, this cult military classic poses crucial questions about how we fight when “the age of heroics is over.”
THE INVENTION OF WINGS—Sue Monk Kidd
(Penguin May 384 pp. 978-0-14-312170-1 $17.00)
“A remarkable novel that heightened my sense of what it meant to be a woman—slave or free. . . . Will resonate with anyone who has ever struggled to find her power and her voice. . . . Sue Monk Kidd has written a conversation changer.”
—Oprah Winfrey, O The Oprah Magazine.

THE BOOK OF LIFE—Deborah Harkness
(Penguin May 576 pp. 978-0-14-312752-9 $17.00)
“The epic and erudite vampire-witch romance comes to a thoroughly satisfying conclusion in the action-packed All Souls trilogy ender.”
—Entertainment Weekly.

EVERYTHING I NEVER TOLD YOU—Celeste Ng
(Penguin May 320 pp. 978-0-14-312755-0 $16.00)
“If we know this story, we haven’t seen it yet in American fiction, not until now. . . . What emerges is a deep, heartfelt portrait of a family struggling with its place in history, and a young woman hoping to be the fulfillment of that struggle.”

THE MOCKINGBIRD NEXT DOOR Life with Harper Lee—Marja Mills
(Penguin June 304 pp. 978-0-14-312766-6 $17.00)
“Offers a rich sense of the daily texture of the Lee sisters’ lives. . . . Fortunately, in Mills, the sisters found a genteel family chronicler knocking at their door at the eleventh hour.”
—Maureen Corrigan, NPR Fresh Air.

DOLLBABY—Laura Lane McNeal
(Penguin June 352 pp. 978-0-14-312749-9 $16.00)
“This flavorful and enthralling novel brilliantly captures New Orleans during the civil rights era. It’s a deeply personal tale about growing up and searching for family as well as a provocative exploration of race and kinship. I found it both thrilling and poignant.”
—Walter Isaacson, author of Steve Jobs.

ANA OF CALIFORNIA—Andi Teran
(Penguin July 368 pp. 978-0-14-312649-2 $16.00)
“A modern take on Anne of Green Gables. For an orphan from East L.A., the farms of Northern California might as well be another planet, but Ana Cortez knows this is her last chance. To her surprise, she enjoys farm life. But when a misunderstanding stirs up trouble, can Ana put things right again?”

BRIGHT LINES—Tanwi Nandini Islam
(Penguin August 304 pp. 978-0-14-312313-2 $16.00)
“Whether it’s entirely fictional or not (and I really don’t care) the New York City of Tanwi Nandini Islam’s novel is the one I want to live in! What a radiant, abundant, worldly, sharp and spirited novel! And what a good and powerful imagination, heart and soul seems to have produced it. Bright Lines is very special.”
—Francisco Goldman, author of Say Her Name.

YOURS FOR ETERNITY A Love Story on Death Row—Damien Echols and Lorri Davis
(Plume May 448 pp. 978-0-14-751622-0 $18.00)
“Reconstructed from thousands of letters the pair exchanged over 16 years, this tender and unusual narrative offers a rare, courageously intimate view of a love that should never have survived and yet did.”
—Kirkus.

THE MAGICIAN’S LAND—Lev Grossman
(Plume June 416 pp. 978-0-14-751614-5 $16.00)
 “[A] wonderful trilogy. . . . If the Narnia books were like catnip for a certain kind of kid, these books are like crack for a certain kind of adult. . . . Readers of Mr. Grossman’s mesmerizing trilogy might experience the same kind of withdrawal upon finishing The Magician’s Land.”

PENGUINS WITH PEOPLE PROBLEMS—Mary Laura Philpott
(Perigee June 112 pp. 978-0-399-17309-7 $14.95)
Readers meet penguins stress-eating after breakups, penguins who text their co-workers from across the table during meetings, penguins frustrated with the price of craft cocktails, and penguins stymied by contemporary art.

FLAWD How to Stop Hating on Yourself, Others, and the Things That Make You Who You Are—Emily-Anne Rigal
(Perigee August 208 pp. 978-0-399-17403-2 $15.95)
With advice from teens and celebrities around the world for seeing shortcomings as the doorway to something more, FLAWD gives readers the means to move toward self-acceptance and authenticity.

THE STAR SIDE OF BIRD HILL—Naomi Jackson
(Penguin Press June 304 pp. 978-1-59420-595-8 $25.95)
Two sisters, aged ten and sixteen, are suddenly sent from their home in Brooklyn to Barbados to live with their grandmother in this stunning debut novel. “Jackson has written a first novel full of heart and heartbreak, a novel about going home, about the ties that bind three generations of women across years and despite absence.”
—Ayana Mathis, author of The Twelve Tribes of Hattie.
UNDOCUMENTED A Dominican Boy’s Odyssey from a Homeless Shelter to the Ivy League
—Dan-el Padilla Peralta (Penguin Press July 320 pp. 978-0-451-47555-8 $27.95)

“Dan-el Padilla Peralta’s story is as compulsively readable as a novel, an all-American tall tale that just happens to be true. From homeless shelter to Princeton, Oxford, and Stanford, through the grace not only of his own hard work but his mother’s discipline and care, he documents the America we should still aspire to be.”—Dr. Anne-Marie Slaughter, president of the New America Foundation.

LET ME DIE IN HIS FOOTSTEPS—Lori Roy
(Dutton June 336 pp. 978-0-525-95507-8 $26.95)

On a dark Kentucky night in 1952, teenager Annie Holleran crosses into forbidden territory—and when the body she sees there in the moonlight is discovered come morning, Annie will have much to explain and a past to account for.

THE MERCY OF THE SKY The Story of a Tornado—Holly Bailey (Viking May 320 pp. 978-0-525-42749-0 $27.95)

Oklahoma native Holly Bailey became Newsweek’s youngest-ever White House correspondent. But when a devastating tornado hits Moore in 2013, she returns home, speaking to the teachers who put their lives at risk to save their students, and to many shell-shocked residents.

RE JANE—Patricia Park (Pamela Dorman May 352 pp. 978-0-525-42740-9 $27.95)

“Re Jane is a rich and engaging novel. Besides being a love story, it is infused with contemporary subject matter, such as longing versus belonging, the immigrant experience. Patricia Park writes with earnestness, honesty, and exuberance, which make the novel thoroughly enjoyable.”—Ha Jin, author of Waiting.

IDEAL—Ayn Rand (NAL July 256 pp. 978-0-451-47555-8 $26.95)

Originally written in 1934 as a novel, Ayn Rand thought the theme of the piece would be better realized as a play and put the novel aside. Now, both versions of Ideal are available for the first time ever to the millions of Ayn Rand fans around the world.

INK AND BONE The Great Library—Rachel Caine (NAL July 368 pp. 978-0-451-47239-7 $17.99)

“Caine transports the reader to an imaginary future world where a Great Library controls all knowledge and the private ownership of printed books is a radical, dangerous practice. . . . Ink and Bone launches a magical new series that will leave readers begging for more.”—Deborah Harkness, author of A Discovery of Witches.

THE GHOSTS OF HERO STREET How One Small Mexican-American Community Gave So Much in World War II and Korea—Carlos Harrison (Berkley May 336 pp. 978-0-425-26254-2 $16.00)

“When our servicemen and women risk their lives for the security of our families and communities, we must stop and reflect on the immensity of their sacrifice. The Ghosts of Hero Street reminds us why we must be appreciative, and teaches us how we should say thank you.”—Former HUD secretary and San Antonio mayor Henry Cisneros. 16 pages photos.

A LONG WAY HOME A Memoir—Saroo Brierley (Berkley June 288 pp. 978-0-425-27843-7 $15.00)

The internationally bestselling true story of a five-year-old boy who got lost on a train in India and found his way home again—twenty-five years later. 16-page b/w insert.

MRS. BENNET HAS HER SAY—Jane Juska (Berkley August 304 pp. 978-0-425-27843-7 $15.00)

Filled with audacious wit and hilarious surprises, this debut novel is a smart, satirical look at love, marriage, and the beloved Bennet family from Jane Austen’s Pride and Prejudice.

BAD ENGLISH A History of Linguistic Aggravation—Ammon Shea (Perigee June 272 pp. 978-0-399-16558-0 $16.00)

“Language is funny, and so is Ammon Shea. His excellent new book tours our irrational prejudices about language, showing that an appreciation for the quirks and ironies of language history can put our understanding on a firmer basis and restore our sense of humor.”—David Skinner, author of The Story of Ain’t.

BOOK FAIRS

CREATIVE SCHOOLS The Grassroots Revolution That’s Transforming Education—Ken Robinson and Lou Aronica (Viking May 320 pp. 978-0-670-01671-6 $27.95)
The acclaimed author of The Element argues for an end to our outmoded industrial educational system and proposes a highly personalized, organic approach that draws on today’s unprecedented technological and professional resources to engage all students.

HOW NOT TO BE WRONG The Power of Mathematical Thinking—Jordan Ellenberg (Penguin May 480 pp. 978-0-14-312753-6 $17.00)
“Brilliant and fascinating! Ellenberg shows his readers how to magnify common sense using the tools usually only accessible to those who have studied higher mathematics. I highly recommend it to anyone interested in expanding their worldly savviness—and math IQ!”—Danica McKellar, author of Math Doesn’t Suck.

WHY FOOTBALL MATTERS My Education in the Game—Mark Edmundson (Penguin June 240 pp. 978-0-14-312764-2 $16.00)
“This book certainly enriches one’s sense of a game that enthralls millions of Americans with its violence and its grace.”—Michael Roth, Huffington Post.

VIRTUAL UNREALITY The New Era of Digital Deception—Charles Seife (Penguin August 256 pp. 978-0-14-312767-3 $16.00)
Seife provides a much-needed toolkit for how to tell truth from fantasy in the digital world. “Mr. Seife . . . is a meticulous writer, and he quickly won me over—unfortunately. . . . [H]is portrait is persuasive and thus disconcerting and frightening.”—Howard Schneider, The Wall Street Journal.

THE ORGANIZED MIND Thinking Straight in the Age of Information Overload—Daniel J. Levitin (Plume September 528 pp. 978-0-14-751631-2 $17.00)
“Levitin’s book follows in the ancient tradition of knowledge as a guide to a better life. Discover the creative power of organized thought, whether you are a writer or a scientist, a disorganized mess or a super robot seeking new frontiers of effectiveness.”—Eric Kaplan, co-executive producer and writer, The Big Bang Theory.

THE PRICE OF SILENCE A Mom’s Perspective on Mental Illness—Liza Long (Plume August 304 pp. 978-0-14-751640-4 $16.00)
Foreword by Harold Koplewicz. “In this courageous, determined, radical book, Liza Long exposes the dearth of alternatives for parents of kids with mental illnesses, the shame that attends their perceived failures, and the hope that such families may find their collective voice and demand better options. I hope her passionate cry is heard far and wide.”—Andrew Solomon, author of The Noonday Demon.

RAISING CAN-DO KIDS Giving Children the Tools to Thrive in a Fast-Changing World—Richard Rende, PhD, and Jen Prosek (Perigee August 272 pp. 978-0-399-16896-3 $24.95)
“Bringing together the latest research on child development with real-world examples and insights, this unique and authoritative book couldn’t be more timely and helpful. It offers parents an engaging roadmap for raising kids who will be primed to both define and pursue their successes in the exciting and complex future that awaits them.”—Michele Borba, author of The Big Book of Parenting Solutions.

BRAINSTORM The Power and Purpose of the Teenage Brain—Daniel J. Siegel M.D. (Tarcher August 352 pp. 978-0-399-16883-3 $16.95)
“A necessary look at why adolescents do what they do that can put parents in an emotional frenzy. The information that Dr. Dan Siegel shares is not only invaluable for understanding your growing child’s brain, but helps build more compassion and patience. A gift for us all.”—Goldie Hawn. B/w illustrations.

The parenting expert reveals in this book that the solution is to help kids develop healthy attitudes in life, by setting up limits with consequences and training them in responsible behavior and decision making.

THE SELF-MOTIVATED KID How to Raise Happy, Healthy Children Who Know What They Want and Go After It (Without Being Told)—Shimi Kang (Tarcher August 352 pp. 978-0-399-17511-4 $16.95)
“Dr. Shimi Kang writes insightfully of the real lives of parents, weaving science with spirit, and embedding highly practical suggestions into every chapter. I highly recommend this book!”—Michael Gurian, author of The Wonder of Boys.
PROXIMA—Stephen Baxter (ROC August 512 pp. 978-0-451-46771-3 $7.99)
The habitable planet of Proxima Centauri could mean the never-ending existence of humanity. But first it must be colonized, and no one wants to be a settler. “An epic of interstellar pioneering and solar-system expansion.”—Locus. (New in hardcover: Ultima August 978-0-451-46772-0)
